

Are you a healthcare provider working in the field of bipolar disorders treatment?

Psychosocial services can help people living with bipolar disorder improve their overall health and wellbeing, however, we know little about how these forms of care are currently being offered and accessed in Australia.

Who can participate in the research project?

- Healthcare professionals (registered with AHPRA), who reside in Australia and who have experience providing treatment or support to someone living with a diagnosis of bipolar disorder.

What will it involve?

- You will be asked to complete a brief online survey to register your interest (5 mins).
- You may then be invited to participate in an online interview (1 hour).

Learn more or register your interest here:

<https://bit.ly/psychosocialservices-providers>

Questions?

Contact psychosocialservicesproject@monash.edu