People bereaved by suicide may seek support from a General Practitioner.

The aim of this activity is to better equip General Practitioners to support bereaved patients impacted by suicide.

This training will provide a better understanding of the presentation of traumatic loss.

There will also be discussion on the difference between grief, trauma and depression.

Topics covered include:

- Support After Suicide program
- Suicide
- Suicide bereavement
- Grief or depression?
- Supporting children and young people

Presenters:

Dr Greg Roberts is a Social Worker and Counsellor who has focused almost exclusively on working with grief, bereavement and trauma since 2001 and has worked in both acute and community health settings. Dr Roberts currently works as the Victorian Manager of Support After Suicide and also has a small private practice, working as a counsellor, group facilitator, educator and clinical supervisor.

Learning outcomes:

- Increased understanding of suicide bereavement in relation to the issue of suicide in our society.
- Develop practical understanding of grief and trauma associated with suicide bereavement.
